

Board of Selectmen

The Good...

Chester-born and raised, Justin Good is committed and connected to his home town and his fellow citizens. A dedicated and creative problem-solver with a Ph.D. in political philosophy, Good currently teaches at the University of Connecticut and the University of Hartford.

Good has a well-rounded background as a former business owner, professional listener and experienced group coordinator. A dedicated scholar of economics and town planning, he has written and lectured on sustainable economics and smart growth development.

Good brings superb communication skills, innovative ideas, and a clear vision of the future to the next generation of Chester leadership – especially as a community organizer with deep roots in our community. He is an active member of Chester's Conservation Commission and co-chairman Chester's Democratic Town Committee. He is the founding director and active member of SolarClarity, a network and blog focused on sustainability and economic development. And he is the manager, promoter and fellow musician for the band, Exit 6

Good's interests often take him out of town and out of state as an invited guest lecturer at the Connecticut Transportation Institute as well as the Northeast Sustainable Energy Association. He is an active member of the Schumacher Society, Earth Charter, Team GAIA, The Society of Human Ecology and the International Society of Universal Dialogue. He is also a published author of an academic book, as well as the writer of many articles, book reviews and essays.

with some Heft!

With more than a decade of experience as First Selectman, and extensive experience with governance at the state and federal level, Martin Heft is a master of political process and administrative procedure. A trusted aid to State Comptroller Nancy Wyman and native to Chester, Martin brings: a proven track record as an effective town manager, a vast network of trusted working relationships cultivated over many years of dedicated public service, passionate commitment to the community, and a huge heart.
